Cochrane Austria is delighted to offer exhibition space for the duration of the 23rd Cochrane Colloquium “Filtering the information overload for better decisions” at the Vienna Congress Center. We received an all-time record number of abstract and workshop submissions and have already secured several top-name key note speakers; for these reasons, and because of the location in the heart of Europe, we are expecting over 1,000 delegates from many international organizations to attend the Colloquium.

The exhibitor area will be located in the first hall upon entering the main venue. This 1,200m² (13,800ft²) space is designed to be the central meeting and networking location for delegates with tables and chairs to accommodate any spontaneous meetings and the scientific poster display. Included in the exhibitor package is the booth infrastructure, including one table, two chairs, signage and lighting, electrical outlets, and a lockable cupboard, as well as one free registration. Additional registrations may be purchased.
